House Passes Watered-Down Foreign Aid Measure, 245-110

Bill Slashed $1.7 Billion Despite Pleas

Washington (AP) — The House last night passed a $6,162,600,000 foreign aid bill after cutting $1,737,400,000 from President Truman's requests. The measure now goes to the Senate.

The roll call vote was 245 to 110.

Temporarily dominated by Republicans, the House sliced $726,500,000 on the floor in addition to $1,010,900,000 which the Foreign Affairs Committee previously trimmed from the President's $7,900,000,000 program.

Backers of Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) led the forces demanding the cuts. They overrode more moderate reductions proposed by supporters of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. Democratic absenteeism gave the Republican control during crucial voting yesterday and Thursday.

The cuts reduced military aid to Europe by $829,000,000 and trimmed a total of $908,400,000 from economic aid for Europe and the Far East.

The explosive Middle East and Latin America were left untouched. The administration was unable to salvage the original bill, despite a warning from Speaker Rayburn that the United States had lost air superiority to Russia and must act to strengthen its allies.

At the last minute the House also adopted an amendment requiring the Allies to gear their resources for defense and to take further steps toward European unification to get continued aid.

The bill as passed contained these main authorizations for the year ending June 30, 1953:

Europe — Military aid, $3,316,000,000; economic aid, $1,022,000,000; total $4,338,000,000 cut in committee, and another $615,300,000 on the floor, by a 221 to 137 roll call vote.

Middle East — Military aid, $606,370,000 and economic, $196,000,000, unchanged from administration requests.

Far East — Military, $611,230,000; economic, $296,800,000 cut to $111,200,000 on floor by a 192 to 165 roll call vote.

Latin America — Military, $62,400,000; economic, $22 million dollars.

The legislation passed last night authorizes the aid program but actual appropriations have to be made later.

The bill also includes 12 million for the International Children's Fund, 75 million for Jewish refugees in Israel and 65 million for Arab refugees.

Supporters of the cuts argued that the American economy could not stand indefinite spending abroad and that proposed economic aid, particularly, was swollen. Administration leaders contended that the one billion slash made by the committee was the most that could be safely trimmed from the measure.

The Senate has begun considering its own $6,900,000,000 foreign aid program with proposals for further reductions ranging from 500 million to one billion.

Soviet Charge Denied By U. S.

Washington (AP) — The United States flatly denied yesterday a Soviet charge that American military missions control the armed forces of Iran. It also accused Russia of meddling in Iran's internal affairs.

The statement was made by State Department Press Officer Michael J. McDermott, in quick response to a Moscow protest to Iran against its acceptance of American aid. McDermott accused Russia of distorting Iran's treaty obligations to the Soviet Union under a pact made in 1921. He asserted that this treaty is now outdated.

Western Union Workers May Reject Pact

Washington (AP) — An agreement was reached yesterday for settling the 51-day strike of Western Union employees but early reports indicated workers might reject the pact.

Rejections of the pact came from Oakland, Calif., San Francisco, Los Angeles, Kansas City and Chicago. But in Cleveland, Western Union workers voted 211 to 50 to accept the settlement.

The agreement provides pay raises for the 30,000 employees, but it goes into effect only if the government agrees to a boost in telegraph rates. The union agreed to help the company argue a rate increase before the Federal Communications Commission, which regulates telegraph charges. Local meetings of the AFL's Commercial Telegraphers Union (CTU) were called across the nation for today and Sunday to vote on the agreement.

Rail Seizure Ends As Unions Sign Contract

Washington (AP) — Three big rail unions signed new 16-month work contracts with the nation's railroads yesterday and the government quickly issued an order returning the roads to their private owners.

For 21 months the carriers have been under government control. They were seized in August 1950 to avert a nation-wide strike for higher wages and changes in working rules.

Yesterday's developments mean there may be many months of fairly stable labor-management peace on the 250,000 miles of railroads crisscrossing the United States.

The contracts were signed in a hotel suite by leaders of three unions—the engineers, firemen and conductors—representing 150,000 workers—and three carrier groups representing more than 130 roads in the East, the Southeast and the West.

The new contract brings a 37-cent wage boost to men in the yards and a 22½-cent raise to over-the-road workers. Yard workers will get another 4 cents an hour if and when they go on a 40-hour week.

Ten Indians Die In Fire

Tablequah, Okla. (AP) — Ten members of two Indian families, nine of them children, burned to death yesterday in a fire which destroyed their tiny home after it was hit by lightning.

Dorothy Scott, about 30, mother of four of the children, died in a hospital several hours after she and her husband, Runaway Scott, staggered from the blazing house with another child.

The other nine victims perished in the flames. The husband and remaining child also were critically burned and a physician indicated they might not live.

Women Students Refuse To Attend College Classes

Bethlehem, (AP) — The 150 students at the Moravian College for Women refused to attend classes yesterday.

It is the first instance of any student demonstration against school officials in the 216-history of the college which is owned and operated by the Moravian Church. The girls stood in groups outside the buildings, gathered in the halls and student lounge but didn't join faculty members in the classrooms.

Officially the college declined to comment. But individual students said the protest was in behalf of Norman Tiffany, mathematics instructor, whose contract was not renewed for 1952-53.

Johnny Ray To Wed Secretary

New York (AP) — Singer Johnny Ray, wailing heart-throb of the nation's bobby soxers, and Marilyn Morrison of Los Angeles obtained a wedding license yesterday. They intend to be married here Sunday.

Fine To Meet With Group On Parkway

Mount Pocono—A greater Northeastern Pennsylvania Pocono Mountains Memorial Parkway Committee Monday will present to Gov. John S. Fine the legislation and long discussed proposal to construct a scenic parkway through the Poconos as a rival to the Skyline Drive of Virginia for tourist travel of the nation.

R. LeRoy Dengler, chairman of the Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce Memorial Parkway Committee, said yesterday Gov. Fine is scheduled to address a convention at Pocono Manor Monday.

The Governor has agreed to meet with the Northeastern Pennsylvania group at 4 p.m. At least six counties in this region of the state will be represented in the group which will put forth a plea to have Gov. Fine appoint members of a Memorial Parkway Commission.

Included in the group are Monroe, Pike, Wayne, Lackawanna, Luzerne and Northampton Counties, with others "possibly" represented.

Legislation introduced by Sen. Montgomery F. Crowe several years ago sets up a parkway commission and authorizes them to engineer, finance and construct a scenic toll road for pleasure traffic only on a semi-circular path across topmost ridges of the Poconos, stretching from the vicinity of Milford, Pike County on the north to Delaware Water Gap.

The proposed scenic route, commanding vast vistas of the lakes, streams, valleys and mountains in three to four counties, would be broken here and there by such major highway routes as Route 115, Route 611, Route 209, and others.

A toll road, the highway would have entrances and exits where these breaks occur. It would be wide, highly restricted as to commercialization and place full emphasis on tourist and resort guest pleasure.

Crowe later sponsored an amendment to the bill changing the name to Memorial Parkway for the purposes of honoring all men and women who served their country from Pennsylvania.

The local group who will confer with Gov. Fine includes Mr. Dengler, Dale H. Learn, H. L. Keller and Frank B. Michaels.

Herman Kersteen, chairman of Luzerne County commissioners, will head the delegation from that county which may include Judge Frank Pinola if he is free from court duties.

D. A. Howe, chairman Pike County Association, and J. Russell Eshback, prothonotary will head the Pike contingent.

Wayne, Lackawanna, Northampton Counties are scheduled to send delegations.

Robert Davies, of Davies, Strauss & Stauffer, will head the Northampton County group.

Bonn, Germany (AP) — The Allied Big Three, foreign ministers gathered here last night to sign the pact that will set the West German keystone into the ramparts of Western defense against Communist aggression.

Silverman Announces Plans To Remodel Burned Building

Sol Silverman, one of the owners of the three-story frame building at Washington and Day Sts., East Stroudsburg, badly damaged by fire late Thursday night, said yesterday that no time would be lost in remodeling the building and renovating the apartments.

The total loss caused by the fire could not be determined yet, Mr. Silverman stated. He said that insurance adjusters had been on the scene yesterday, but actual figures were not available.

Rudolph E. Manheim, proprietor of Rudy's Grill, patrons of which were first notified of the fire in the rear of the building, said yesterday his place of business was a complete loss. This he estimated at $22,000, three-fourths covered by insurance. He said that renovations would begin next week, if possible.

Fire Chief George H. Engelhardt of Acme Hose Co., No. 1, East Stroudsburg, said the fire started in the small frame structure in the rear of the Speed Boys auto accessory store. The cause, he said, was undetermined. He was unable to give any estimate of the total loss.

Weinberg Indicted

Washington (AP) — A federal grand jury yesterday returned a three-count perjury indictment against Prof. Joseph W. Weinberg, the long mysterious "Scientist X" accused by a House committee of slipping atomic secrets to an alleged Red spy.

The indictment charges Weinberg lied under oath when he told the House Un-American Activities Committee three years ago that he had never been a member of the Communist party.

Judge James R. Kirkland immediately issued a warrant for Weinberg's arrest and fixed bond at $10,000.

Less than three hours later, Weinberg was taken into custody by the U.S. marshal in Minneapolis. He expressed surprise at the indictment, but refused to discuss the charges against him.

Weinberg was released on $10,000 bond after appearing before a United States commissioner, C. O. Lundquist, at Minneapolis. The scientist was ordered to appear before Lundquist again on Tuesday when bond will be set for his appearance in Washington.

The 35-year-old scientist, who is generally credited with having helped developed the A-bomb, was ordered to appear in U.S. District Court here on June 2.

Thousands Weep At Garfield Rites

New York (AP) — More than 10,000 fans, including many weeping women, surged against police barricades yesterday at the funeral of actor John Garfield.

A 79th St. chapel, which normally holds 600, was crammed to the walls with standees during the 25-minute Jewish funeral service. Garfield was born Julius Garfinkel in Brooklyn.

He died Wednesday of a heart attack in the apartment of a friend, former actress Iris Whitney.

Boxcar Betty, Queen Of Hoboes, Becomes Bride

New York (AP) — The self-styled queen of hoboes, "Box-car Betty," parked her cigar long enough yesterday to say "I do." Her groom, quite naturally, is a traveling man.

Stogies not being a part of this year's bridal ensemble, she wasn't puffing one during the marriage ceremony at the Municipal Building.

But as soon as the hitching was complete, she lit up in the corridor outside. Smokes 10 a day, she explained. Been doing it since she was 8. She's 55 now.

Her new husband, Christopher Luby, 52, smiled rather painfully through the smoke. He detests cigars.

"Very lovely people," said Deputy City Clerk Thomas A. Lenane, who performed the two-minute ceremony.

OPS Restricts Potato Markups

Washington (AP) — The government moved yesterday to assure fairer distribution of available potatoes by clamping down on the price markups country shippers may take in selling large quantities to retailers.

The Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) said it will issue an order next Tuesday limiting to not more than 16 cents per hundred pounds the margin shippers in growing areas can obtain by selling carload lots to retailers at distant points.

Red Cross Chapter Elects Arlington Williams Chairman, Awards Certificates To Volunteers

Arlington W. Williams, attorney, last night was elected chairman of the Monroe County Chapter of the American Red Cross at a meeting held at the Stroud Community House, and marked by the presentation of certificates to 69 Red Cross volunteers who have qualified through training and service.

George T. Robinson, retiring chairman, presided at the meeting, at which Fred W. Davis, president judge of the Monroe-Pike courts, was the guest speaker. Judge Davis hailed the work of the volunteers, whose unselfish, voluntary service for their fellowmen, he said, might well set the pattern for people in a democracy. As head of the Civil Defense program in Monroe County, he outlined the steps taken in the zone defense of the county, and the over-all plan to coordinate it with the services of the Red Cross in time of need.

Greatest Raid Of War Years Big Red Base

Seoul, Saturday, (AP) — Allied war planes struck the greatest air blow of the Korean War Thursday and Friday, turning a huge Red supply and arsenal complex into what one pilot called "a little hell."

For 36 hours planes of every description rained destruction on the center sprawling along the banks of the Taedong River south of the North Korean capital of Pyongyang.

The Fifth Air Force said 450 buildings were destroyed or damaged. Reports from the last pilots over the target indicated most of the buildings were destroyed.

Only rain squalls sweeping out of Manchuria spared the center from further blows.

The Air Force said it was the greatest saturation bombing of the war. A total of 800 sorties were flown against the target.

The raid took on the familiar saturation pattern set by massive raids that knocked out two bases southeast of Pyongyang in March and earlier this month. The latter, which paralyzed Suwon May 8, was the heaviest raid previously.

U. S. Now Says It Warned Of Red Buildup

Washington (AP) — The United States has informally warned its 16 United Nations allies to be on guard against the possibility of "renewed Communist aggression" in Korea.

The State Department belatedly disclosed yesterday that the warning of a possible renewal of the offensive in Korea was given 10 days ago to diplomats representing U.N. nations with forces in the Korean conflict.

A brief statement in effect said that Secretary Acheson erred Wednesday when he told a news conference no warning had been sent to the Philippines about new Communist aggression in the Far East.

President Elpidio Quirino of the Philippines had told reporters that a warning had been received from the United States and that his government was concerned about it.

Informed officials disclosed the State Department put out its correction yesterday after Philippine Ambassador Carlos Romulo complained to Acting Secretary David Bruce that Acheson's remarks had embarrassed Quirino.

Administrators Of Bobby Sayre Fund Appointed

Rev. Harold C. Eaton, coordinator of the Bobby Sayre fund, announced the appointment of two well-known residents as administrators of the fund.

Accepting appointments as administrators were Carl T. Secor, supervising principal of the East Stroudsburg Public School system and Herbert B. Crane, certified public accountant, Stroudsburg.

The drive, which was inaugurated on Monday, ended Wednesday night with the goal over-subscribed. Still to be counted, however, are the proceeds from a special matinee at noon today at the Grand Theatre.

Dodd, Colson Reduced To Colonel Rank

Washington (AP) — The Army yesterday "broke" the two brigadier generals involved in the Koje prisoners' revolt fiasco in Korea. It reduced them to the rank of colonel, and ordered a formal reprimand for their immediate superior.

Demoted were:

One—Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd, the Koje commandant who was seized and held for several days by the Red POWs until their "ransom" demands were met.

Two—Brig. Gen. Charles F. Colson, the man who agreed to the prisoners' terms for releasing Dodd.

Both were reduced to their permanent rank of colonel. As a result, each will lose $133.38 a month in pay and $34.20 in rent allowance.

In addition, the Army ordered an "administrative reprimand" for Brig. Gen. Paul F. Yount, commander of the Army base section at Pusan which has jurisdiction over the Koje Island Prison Camp.

Although mild sounding, a reprimand goes down in the Army's books as a black mark against the offender and makes it harder for him to gain promotion.

Coincident with the crackdown announcement, the Army imposed a virtual blackout on further disclosures about the Koje episode which has touched off congressional demands for a full-dress investigation.

Senate and House members alike have said nasty elements of the case are completely baffling and still unexplained.

An Army spokesman told newsmen at the Pentagon that yesterday's announcement was all the Army expected to make public relating to the official investigation and recommendations received from Gen. Mark W. Clark, the new Far East commander in chief.

The spokesman said Clark's report was classified-secret or confidential—and probably contained "considerable security information." The report, described as "very lengthy," reached Washington in the early hours yesterday morning via special courier flown from Japan.

Meanwhile, in related developments:

One—Associated Press Correspondent Robert E. Unsworth said in a dispatch from Tokyo that Gen. Clark has laid down a new policy, backed by seasoned combat troops, for meeting any further Communist defiance in the POW camps with "strong-arm methods."

Unsworth also reported that "the Red" iron rule inside the stockades at Koje seemed to be slipping.

Two—An AP dispatch from Koje Island, delayed for nearly a week by censors, quoted South Korean sources as saying four North Korean guards and three North Korean Communist prisoners were killed and 57 Reds wounded in a riot on April 10.

Late yesterday, the Army here confirmed these casualty figures, and said the circumstances of the riot as reported in the news dispatch were substantially similar to official reports received by the Army from Far East headquarters.

Earlier riots on Feb. 18 and March 13 took a toll of 90 prisoners and one American soldier killed.

Baptists To Mark Family Day

Sunday will be Family Worship Day at the First Baptist Church, East Stroudsburg.

The guest speaker at the morning service will be Elgar Rubright, a Christian layman from Syracuse, N.Y. His subject will be "America's Most Powerful Secret Weapon."

Mr. Rubright is the executive director of the Christ for Greater Syracuse campaigns and devotes considerable time to the Christian Home League in its efforts to counter the tide of spiritual declension in America.

It is the plan of the pastor, Rev. Norman Savage that the families of the congregation have a united and full representation in the service.

Action Points Toward Union

New York (AP) — The 2½ million-member Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. yesterday approved a broad program of "cooperative activity" with the two other major Presbyterian bodies.

The action was described as a prelude to a plan of union.

It marked a new milestone in the expanding ecumenical movement that has brought mergers of some denominations in recent times, and sparked kindred projects among numerous others.

The Presbyterian program calls for liaison with the 700,000-member United Presbyterian Church in such fields as evangelism, stewardship, and pulp exchange.

It also envisages joint activity in administering chaplains to the armed forces, in locating new churches, and the publication, in the near future, of a common hymn book.

This will be an organizational meeting when officers will be elected. President R. L. Dengler will also appoint committees. All governors are urged to make special efforts to attend.

Seniors Conduct Final Ceremony

Stroudsburg High School senior students yesterday afternoon participated in their final flag salute program at the school.

The final observance of the ceremony is traditional at the borough school. All high school students were asked to participate.

and other organizations to students of the school will be made at that time, Principal John C. Mills said yesterday.

County Masons To Worship At Zion Church

Monroe County Masonic orders will attend vespers services in a body Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in Zion Evangelical and Reformed Church, Stroudsburg, marking a long established custom to worship together near Ascension Day.

Rev. Frank H. Blatt will deliver the sermon, "Why Stand Ye Looking?" Schubert's prelude "Ave Maria" will be played by Mrs. Lucy Quig and Harry Miller will sing "Jesus of Galilee." Miss Susan Warner and Carl Weingartner will be heard in a duet, "He Smiled On Me," and as an offertory the senior choir will sing "Open Our Eyes." Mrs. Herbert Lutz, soprano, will sing a sacred verse written by Mrs. Madalyn Maloney to the melody, "Morning," by Olej Speaks.

Ushers for the vespers will be Levi Marsh and Millard Marsh. Service will conclude with the postlude "Nocturne."

At the morning service at 11, Rev. Blatt will speak on "Little Known Characters of the Bible," a continuation of his series. Title will be "Phillip, the Evangelist." Mrs. Quig, organist and choir director has selected for her performance "The Lullaby Air." Senior choir will sing as their offertory "Awake, Awake." Service will conclude with the postlude in B flat.

Flowers will be placed in altar vases by Mrs. Cora Praetorius, in memory of her husband, Mrs. Margaret Wheeler will place flowers in the chancel vase in memory of her father, Oscar Kulp.

The Dirigo class will have charge of nursery during the service. Emmett Fabel, Earl Halsted, Henry Kochler and Claude Miller will serve as ushers.

Nixon Elected Lay Delegate

William V. Nixon, lay-president of the Church Council of Grace E. Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg, and assistant to the president of Muhlenberg College, was named as an official lay delegate to represent the Lutheran Ministerium of Pennsylvania at the convention of the United Lutheran Church in America in Seattle, Wash., next October. Mr. Nixon was nominated by Rev. William F. Wunder, his pastor, at the Allentown Conference convention in Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, Bethlehem, on April 29. He received the vote of the synod at its recent convention at Buck Hill Falls.

Brotherhood To Meet Tonight

The May meeting of Men's Brotherhood of St. Mark's Lutheran Church of Minikill Hills will be held at 8 p.m. today at the home of William Nelson.

Tonight's meeting is the first outdoor meeting of the season. A good attendance is urged.

Floyd Beans, piano tuner, will be in Stroudsburg week of May 26. Leave orders at J. H. Lanterman & Sons or The American House.

Ascension Theme Chosen For Grace Church Service

The sermon theme of the 11 a.m. service on Sunday at Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg, will be "Our Ascended Lord." The Ascension of Christ was observed by the Christian Church on Thursday and in recognition of this culminating act of Christ's redemptive ministry, Pastor Wunder will preach the morning sermon on the Ascension theme as it is recorded in Scripture in the First Chapter of the Book of Acts.

Rev. Charles P. Wilson

Rev. Wilson To Conduct Revival Week

A special week of revival services will be held nightly at the Berean Mennonite Brethren in Christ Church at 23 So. Sixth St., Stroudsburg, at 7:30 p.m. during the week of May 25 through 31. The evangelist, Rev. Charles P. Wilson of New York, will speak in the morning worship service at 10:30 a.m.

Rev. Wilson was converted in 1925 in a Christian and Missionary Alliance Church near Detroit, Mich. After he graduated from high school, he went to St. Paul Bible Institute in Minnesota in 1937. After his dad died, he came home to work and help the family, and later was able to go to Nyack, N. Y. to attend the Missionary Training Institute where he was graduated in 1943.

During his years at Nyack, as well as at St. Paul, he traveled with the Eastern Concert Tours, and as first-chair trumpeter, he was used in brass instrumental specials in Carnegie Hall in New York City for the annual Congress of Missionary Bands programs.

After graduation, he served a Summer in Ottawa, Canada, with Rev. Nathan Bailey, and then returned to the States to accept a pastorate for one year in Whitesville, N. Y., and then in Buffalo, N. Y. for six years. During that time in Buffalo, he had part in helping to organize their first Youth for Christ set-up, and he was active with them until his resignation, July 15, 1950. From then, until the present time, he has been active in the evangelistic ministry.

Industrial Arts Class Takes Trip

Members of industrial arts classes at Stroudsburg High School yesterday visited the Williamsport, Pa., Technical Institute.

The students were accompanied by Stroudsburg Principal Alfred Munson and industrial arts supervisor Robert Hawik.

A thorough study of the Williamsport industrial setup and classroom procedures was scheduled during the full-day tour.

Optimists Convening

Some 275 members of the Optimist Clubs of southeast Pennsylvania, Wilmington, Del. and Atlantic City, N. J., converged on Monomoneck Inn, Mountainhome, yesterday for a three-day convention of district two.

Highlight of the parley will be an address tonight by Lawrence J. Gibbons, of Philadelphia, vice president of Optimist International. Gibbons is president of Meritz White Way Tours, Philadelphia, and president of Auck Interborough Transit Co., Conshohocken. A University of Pennsylvania graduate, he will speak on "Our Responsibility to Youth."

Gibbons is serving his second term as vice president of Optimist International. His address before a banquet gathering at 8:45 p.m. will be aired over station WVPO.

Host to the convention, the Optimist Club of Upper Darby, expects the turnout to break previous records as delegates and their wives from all clubs in the district will be attending.

WHAT WILL IT BE TODAY?

This man is a grocer. He can supply your grocery needs. But, before you enter his store, you think about the things you need.

Not far from you there is a church. That church can supply your spiritual needs, the very real, but intangible requirements of the human soul, which are just as important to a person's well-being as the items on the "grocery list."

Go to Church Sunday! But right now take stock of your life! Think about your needs!

Faith? Courage? Guidance? Comfort? Not many of us have all we need for today... and tomorrow... and another day.

As we realize our spiritual needs, the Church makes possible for each of us a higher standard of living.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Ted Jenkins' Service

Twenty years of service to any organization—especially when it is without remuneration—is in itself a great achievement.

Add to this the fact that the benefits flowing from such efforts reached all people, and you have one facet of the vital role Edward C. Jenkins, secretary-treasurer of Buck Hill Falls Co., operators of The Inn, has played in Pocono Mountains, one of the world's greatest resort regions.

Mr. Jenkins relinquished the post of president of Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau the other day after serving in that post 1940-1952. Prior to that he helped create the Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau which operated out of Mount Pocono headquarters with the able assistance of the late Mrs. Alice Hufford. He served as manager of this bureau 1933-40.

The impact of the publicity, booking activities, promotional work and, much deeper, the establishment of high ethical standards in the resort industry created by Mr. Jenkins, has brought the Pocono Mountains resort region into its greatest era.

We can think of no better tribute than that paid Mr. Jenkins in a citation he received when he relinquished the presidency of the Vacation Bureau. Here it is:

"He dared to dream largely.

"He planned wisely.

"He builded well.

"In grateful recognition of twenty years' leadership and devoted service to his beloved Poconos as able executive, earnest civic worker, loyal friend, jealous guardian of ethical standards and faithful prophet of loftier management ideals this citation is awarded to Edward C. Jenkins, manager 1933-40, president 1940-1952..."

Sunday School Lesson

Scripture—Exodus 20:13; Matthew 5:21-26; 18:1-6, 10-14; Mark 1:40-42; Luke 9:31-36; 12:4-7.

By Newman Campbell

Our Lesson today shows how any unbridled passion can lead to disaster. Not only do we need to be temperate (abstemious) in the matter of indulging in strong drink, but if we would enter into God's kingdom, we must control our anger, hate, prejudices, all our strong passions, so ripe today, that help to make the world a far cry from our prayer, "Thy Kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven."

Statistics show crime on the increase all over the world. It is shocking to read or hear of the murders, killings, tyes, there is a difference in meaning, assaults, robberies, and many tragic accidents caused by criminal carelessness in driving or driving while drunk. Well may be read earnestly and heeded Jesus words of faults that, allowed to grow, lead to crime.

In reference to the difference between killing and murder, our commentator says a killing may not be premeditated, but murder is.

The Master said, "Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, 'Thou shalt not kill, and whosoever shall kill shall be in danger of the judgment.'"

"But I say unto you, that whosoever is angry with his brother without cause, shall be in danger of the judgment; and whosoever shall say to his brother, 'Raca,' (thought to have been a colloquial word used when a Jew was irritated), shall be in danger of the council; but whosoever shall say to his brother, 'Thou fool,' shall be in danger of hell fire."

If one went to the temple with the intention of laying a gift upon the altar, and he remembered that he had wronged his brother, the Master said he should leave the gift on the altar, and go to be reconciled to his brother, then offer his gift to God.

Now all is not unjustified. There is a righteous anger such as Jesus Himself displayed when He drove the money changers who were desecrating the temple with their commercialism, or His just wrath at the hypocritical rulers of the synagogue who professed holiness but failed to practice it in their daily lives. However, unbridled and often unjust anger that turns to hate and may lead to violence, is dangerous to society and to ourselves.

The disciples, although humble men, were always anxious to know who would be first in the kingdom of heaven. Jesus' rebuke to them is a lesson for all of us who aspire to be "first" always.

He took a little child, set him in the midst of the disciples and said, "Except ye be converted and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven." They must be humble; they must be obedient; they must serve others or they could not even hope even to enter the kingdom of God.

The disciples were in a jealous mood, not prepared to be lowly themselves or to treat the lowly kindly, but Jesus said: that if one received a little child in His name he would receive Christ Himself; but he who offended one of the little ones, "it were better if a millstone (a heavy stone drawn by a donkey) were hung about his neck and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea."

In Jesus' day there were many people afflicted with leprosy, that loathsome disease which disfigures and eventually kills the victim. There was no cure for it. Those so smitten were not allowed to come near their families or friends, but must cry "Unclean, unclean," when anyone approached them. One of the blessings of our times is that medical science has found a way to relieve this dreadful scourge and even cure it.

A poor man, so smitten, came to Jesus, and, kneeling at His feet, said, "If Thou wilt, Thou canst make me clean." Jesus' pity was such that He reached out His hand and touched the man, saying, "I will; be thou clean, and the leprosy left the man."

There is so much to comment on in this beautiful lesson, but space demands that we be brief. Jesus' time on earth was drawing to a close, and He knew it. He set His face toward Jerusalem, although there, He knew, His enemies were lying in wait to seize and destroy Him. On His way to Jerusalem, Jesus sent messengers ahead to ask the inhabitants of a Samaritan village to lodge them, but the people, seeing that He was going to the Holy City, refused to take the group in.

The disciples were so furious that they demanded that Jesus call down fire from heaven to burn the village, but Jesus quietly rebuked them, with the words, "The Son of man was not sent to destroy men's lives, but to save them," and they went on to another and we hope more hospitable village.

Thus does the Master teach us how to lead lives that will help the world to grow more like that kingdom for which we pray.

Dangerous Driving

Sometimes there are driving habits of our enlightened citizens dangerous in the extreme, and annoying as well, so today our text is concerned with several driver shortcomings as exposed to the public view by the Keystone Automobile Club.

Mr. Pierce repeats, but doubtless with small hope of reforming any of the culprits, the danger inherent in the summer custom of dangling an arm outside a car door or gripping the top with nonchalant grace while the other hand steers the machine.

Steering is not always the easiest task in the world when using both hands. Mr. Pierce points out, adding that the difference between life and death may well be contained in that split second required to bring the left arm from outside the car in order to get both hands on the steering wheel.

Speaking for ourselves, we have always considered the habit a silly affectation, as well as a dangerous one, despite its evident popularity among many drivers. Not more than a year ago one of these youths whose arm appeared to be holding up the roof of his car came too close to another vehicle in a traffic tangle, and ended up with no left arm. But they still do it.

Since land first emerged from the seas, no portion of the Great Smoky mountains in the southeastern United States has ever been submerged.

For saving Vienna from the invading Turks in 1683, George Kolschitzky received several hundred sacks of coffee abandoned by the enemy.

Flax was the first crop planted by the colonists when they came to America.

Most musical terms come from the Italian language.

Immigration Two views have been in conflict on the subject of immigration for several decades. One position is that the American people have a right to be selective and discriminating as to who is to be admitted into this country, particularly in view of our easy method of naturalization. The other position is that, except for persons who are insane, idiots, or who have committed acts of moral turpitude, anyone who desires to come here should be admitted.

In the present Congress, the first position is adopted by the advocates of the McCarran-Walter Bill; the second position is advocated by the supporters of the Lehman-Humphrey Bill.

The subject arouses deep emotions among many elements in our population, especially among those who are themselves immigrants or the children of immigrants, or those who believe that humanity requires kindness and forbearance toward all men, and, therefore, admission into this country.

However, in all this discussion, certain factors need to be considered, which may be summarized as follows:

1. No matter how liberal a policy might be, the surplus population of the entire earth could not be absorbed in the 3,000,000 square miles that is the United States.

Therefore, there has to be some measure of restriction and discrimination. No bill can be written which does not in a manner limit immigration. While there is no agreement on the potential maximum population of the United States, it is obvious that geographical limitations will ultimately determine that.

2. Every country has a right to preserve its indigenous civilization. Were it not so, no country would place any restrictions on the movement of peoples. Whole nations would again, as they did in the past, move from areas with which they are dissatisfied to countries like ours. A civilization can be drowned in a sea of migrant populations as by defeat in war. While no such danger faces the United States, the fact does remain that too many divergent concepts of government and life cannot be assimilated here with the rapidity required in a period of troubled times.

3. One of the principal costs to the human race of the past two wars has been the collapse of long-accepted institutions, particularly in relation to the State and the economic system. The advent of Communism and Fascism influenced large segments of the European population to reject the 2,000-year-old basis for Western life, the natural law grounded in the Bible and in Greek and Roman thinkers. The rights of man have been subordinated to the authority of the State.

We often call those who have adopted this materialistic concept of life, subversive. Actually, their ways and their thoughts are altogether alien to American life as expressed in the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States. While such persons prefer to live here because it is convenient, they have become conditioned against us.

The debate in the Senate is really over the question of whether such persons should be admitted to the United States and eventually to citizenship so that they can vote in our elections and choose our officials.

The liberal view is that today's subversives are tomorrow's conservatives. In the 19th and early 20th centuries, such a statement might have made sense; in the year 1952, when we are actually at war with the most ardent protagonist of the authority of the State over the individual, such a view contains many elements of peril. A "subversive," that is, one who has belonged to the Communist Party anywhere, ought to prove beyond doubt his conversion before admission into this country.

The liberal, in his anxiety to live up to ideas which applied in Western countries as they were before 1917, forgets that war has changed the world and that America is in danger. If what he calls discrimination against any human being is repugnant, the dilution and even destruction of the American civilization ought to be even more repugnant.

It is difficult for one whose father and mother were immigrants to say that anyone should not have the advantage of coming to this wonderful country. But our parents came to America to seek liberty and opportunity. They did not come here to make America over in the image of some European state. They loved America because of the freedom they found here; they did not come here to betray that freedom.

Try And Stop Me

Remember a football team that came up from the South years ago from tiny Centre College and beat the then-mighty Harvard eleven? The nickname for the valiant little Centre squad was "the praying colonels" because at crucial junctures of a contest all the boys would kneel and pray. H. Allen Smith avers that one day in the dressing room, the Centre coach suddenly cried, "Down to your knees, boys, here comes Grantland Rice!"

Jack Barry, facile moderator of the TV "Juvenile Jury" show, overheard a persistent youngster cross-examine his old man. "Pop, are you afraid of lightning?" "No." "Are you afraid of gangsters?" "No." "Are you afraid of the atom bomb?" "Not even that, son." "Then how come, pop, that you're so afraid of mama?"

Hollywood

—by Gene Handsaker

Hollywood — George Murphy, the movie star with the unmistakably Irish face, carries a big thick appointment book with him practically all the time. No man could remember as many bookings as George always has. Murphy, as friends call him, is Hollywood's No. 1 ambassador.

In the past year he has traveled about 63,000 miles, mostly by air, to talk about Hollywood and its people to editors, students, clubs, and other groups. Whenever there's an emceeing or goodwill chore, M-G-M, his studio, calls on Murphy. Recently he presided over two whopping functions for the Netherlands' Queen Juliana. Just incidentally he helped June Allyson get the queen's autograph—and her majesty got the autographs of stars present to do her honor.

The day before, he emceed a studio luncheon for Cardinal Spellman and 140 Catholic bishops and priests. The day we chatted, George had made five radio transmissions to promote Boy Scout activities and rehearsed a radio broadcast.

"Thursday was a dull day," he grinned, flipping through his date book: "I was able to get to my office." There he handles duties as a member of the board of the Screen Actors Guild... first vice-president of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences... and chairman of the Hollywood Co-ordinating Committee, which arranges movie-star benefit and hospital appearances.

"Personally I think that nothing you do in MODERATION can hurt you very much."

I have smoked in moderation for almost five years since then—and I ain't dead yet.

Looking At Life

—by Erich Brandeis

You will forgive me if I wonder out loud today. But first let me tell you a little story. It's from a television show I saw the other night.

Groucho Marx had on his "70-year-old woman, hale and hearty looking with a keen mind."

During the conversation, she told him that she did not smoke. (Groucho had a big fat cigar in his mouth.)

"Why not?" asked Groucho. "Because I don't like it," was the answer.

When he told her how well she looked for her age and how spry she was, she said that she came from a long-lived family. "My father died when he was fussy about the choice of weapons while battling to protect his bankroll... His eyebrow-hoisting suit for divorce against his wife Eleanor was filed in New York, which means he alleges she was galavanting with other lads... The Broadway Hill-Billy fights for his dollars as though money were worth something... Mr. Truman says he won't run again—that he's spent enough time in the White House... We sure wish that was all he spent... Marlene Dietrich, an expert on such matters, told an interviewer: "No naturally beautiful bust sticks out..." Editors were chump'd into another obvious publicity plant when they gave hefty space to Linda Darnell's wild claim that she "couldn't find a boy friend"... Oh, sure.

Have some constructive criticism: Rita Hayworth admitted "I am not an actress," and Tony Curtis, movie actor, proclaimed: "If an idiot like me can be a success in Hollywood, anybody can do it..." Variety's page 39 has an advert hailing three comics as teeny stars... Two of them are currently unemployed... Best film buy of the year is Marilyn Monroe. Jerry Wald got her for his "Clash By Night" picture for a mere $6,000... The deal was signed before magazines, that calendar and J. DiMaggio built her up into headlines... Now her wage per film is $75,000... The new British thriller "High Treason," has a Scotland Yard man thumbing his nose at U. S. censors when he says: "The Chinese have a saying: 'If you go to bed early you'll have twins!'"

Poor June Modern Screen, the movie mag: "Arlene Dahl reports," says, "that she and Sexy Lexy (Backer) have decided to raise a family"... It came out the week they announced their split... Billy Rose isn't a hundred," she told him. "And he smoked."

Groucho looked at the audience and said:

"That just shows you what smoking will do to a man!" Mind you, I have never claimed to be an authority on anything. So I may be all wrong about what I am going to say now. But I DO believe that there is altogether too much publicity and altogether too much scare-talk about disease and accidents. It is perfectly all right to enlighten people and tell them that they should go to their doctors the moment they think that they have cancer or heart trouble, and for REGULAR CHECK-UPS.

People should be warned to drive slowly and carefully.

That is common sense.

But the other night, over the radio, a fellow shouted at me in a funereal voice (Note to typewriter: Please leave the two n's in "funereal.") It sounded as if it came out of a funnel: "You may never come back alive from the automobile trip on which you start tomorrow." He repeated and repeated it.

It just so happened that we WERE going to start out on a trip the following morning. My wife was going to drive.

But she was so nervous when next morning came around that I had to do the driving. And that made her even more nervous.

The power of suggestion can be dangerous. The fear of cancer, in my humble opinion, might cause a serious neurosis.

Being afraid of heart trouble is apt to bring it on.

Now there is a big drive on about the effect of smoking on cancer.

So they send out rafts of publicity about the research—they know nothing about it yet—and scare millions of people half to death.

I think I have told you this before, but it does no harm to repeat it.

When I asked a famous heart specialist whether smoking was harmful to me, since I had had a heart attack, he replied: "I don't know whether smoking is harmful."

"But I do know that if you WANT to smoke and CAN'T—that IS harmful. It's the resistance in you that causes the harm."

"Personally I think that nothing you do in MODERATION can hurt you very much."

I have smoked in moderation for almost five years since then—and I ain't dead yet.

We All Know How It Is

Charles Elizabeth has asked a raise in her husband's pay of $28,000 a year. She requests nothing more for her three-year-old son Charles, as his income of $291,000 a year from the Duchy of Cornwall will suffice.—News Item.)

Your Majesty:

I am with you in your request for more money for Philip. Today, $28,000 a year is nothing for the husband of a queen, even if a lot of us would take it for less. Suppose you wanted him to stop at the store for groceries? Suppose you expected him to have a prescription filled at a drugstore, and these days, pay out of ready cash? What if you wanted him to take you to dinner and a show? No queen wants a husband around in a position where he is always saying, "I'm a little short. Could you let me have a few dollars until the end of the week?" It would be foolish in these times to say, "What did you do with that $28,000?"

I think you are right in not asking more money for a little Charles, as $291,000 per annum can do for a baby of three today if he is careful. At five or six he will need more because he will then expect a bicycle, a real sled and some substantial toys for Christmas. He will even expect you to buy an extra string of colored bulbs for the tree and you know what that will do to $291,000. Wait 'til he grows up and wants an auto, a couple of suits a year and a spare hat.

As queen you get between one and two million a year, but what's that when it costs $427,000 to run Buckingham Palace a year and $375,000 extra for secretarial and court officials, to say nothing of radio repairmen, paperhangers and plumbers? I'll bet when the plumbing goes wrong at Buckingham a dozen plumbers come up with a coach full of helpers even if it all boils down to just a leaking faucet. I just had a pantry papered, so I can imagine what a painter charges to do over a couple of rooms at Buckingham. And, lady, what they must do to you when you need somebody to trim the hedge and mow the lawn!

You have my sympathies, Your Majesty. Stick up for your new

Council Fills Health, Street Vacancies

Van Gorden, Hess Named To Positions

Stroudsburg Council last night filled two important vacancies in the official family of the borough. A health officer and an acting superintendent of streets were named.

Samuel Van Gorden, 757 Main St., Stroudsburg, a retired warrant officer, first class, United States Navy, was named health officer. He is to assume duties on June 1.

Mr. Van Gorden has seen 24 years active duty in the Navy and a total of 32 years service, including Naval Reserve service.

Edward C. Hess, civil engineer, who is also engineer for the borough of Stroudsburg, was named acting superintendent of streets, filling a vacancy created by the recent resignation of Russell Shiffer.

Council informally approved an immediate campaign to obtain additional forces to press current street work and other work under the department in the borough.

Mr. Hess takes immediate charge of the street department of the borough.

Borough council plans to send the borough health officer to a school of about 13 weeks duration in public health to be held at University of Pittsburgh, starting next September. An arrangement has been made whereby the officers' tuition and expenses will be paid by a state agency.

A State health law requires health officers to qualify for state approval as a borough health officer by taking a prescribed course.

Y Discloses Plans For Day Camp

The Monroe County YMCA will again conduct a day camp at Saylor's Lake for boys between 8 and 14 years. The camp will be operated in two periods of two weeks each. The first period will extend from June 23 to July 4 and the second from July 7 to July 18.

According to the plans announced by John R. Wilson, general secretary, all members of the camp will meet at the local Y at 9 in the morning and will be transported by bus to the camp site. They will return by bus arriving at the Y here no later than 5 p. m. An overnight hike will feature each period, he said.

A program of athletics, swimming, crafts and hikes will fill in the time of each day, all under experienced supervision.

At the close of each period, a special trip either to Philadelphia or Hershey Park will be carried out for the campers.

Registration blanks are now available at the Y. Information concerning the camp may be obtained at the main desk at the Y or by telephone.

BUSHKILL — Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Frick, long residents of this community, were given a farewell party by virtually all the residents of this region this week. The couple will leave soon to take up residence in Allenwood, Pa. Mr. Frick has been known as "the mayor" here for many years. (Daily Record photo)

Bushkill Honors Frick Family At Surprise Farewell Party

Bushkill—Residents of this community honored Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Frick at a farewell surprise party Thursday night at Ora's Restaurant.

The couple, who resided in this area for the past 38 years, will leave in the near future for Allenwood, Pa. to reside.

Mr. and Mrs. Frick came here from Newfoundland in 1914 and lived at the former Charles Turn farm, now the Lutheran Ministerium Camp. In 1922 they purchased the original Wallace Farm here. For the past seven years they have resided at the Smith home.

Known to his host of friends as "The Mayor", Mr. Frick was a farmer for many years; for 16 years was a school bus driver and for the past six years has been janitor of the Bushkill School.

The couple received many gifts, including a brown purse containing cash from local residents; steam iron for Mrs. Frick and leather wallet with cash and cigars for Mr. Frick.

After brief remarks, in which he thanked the group for their efforts, both Mr. and Mrs. Frick sang to express their appreciation to the community. Group singing followed. Refreshments were served in buffet luncheon style.

Guest list included: Mrs. Elsie M. Yetter, Mrs. E. H. Kerr, Mrs. Amy Valterscamp.

Woman, 72, Charged With Stabbing Mate

Milford—Mrs. Katie Canfield, 72, is under $2,000 bail for a hearing charged with assault and battery with intent to kill, and her husband, George Canfield, 46, is in St. Francis Hospital, Port Jervis, N.Y., for treatment for stab wounds, the result of a brawl in their restaurant Thursday night, State police of the Milford sub-station, reported yesterday.

Ptes. Glenn James and Robert J. Smith, State troopers, who investigated, said that Mrs. Canfield informed them that she grabbed a pairing knife during an argument and stabbed her husband, who was wounded in the right side of the chest. They had been drinking, the police said.

Samuel Carlo and James DeMarco, both of Dunmore, employed on the new bridge and boarders at the Canfield place, located seven miles west of Milford on Route 6, discovered Canfield lying on the floor bleeding when they arrived between 9:30 and 10 p.m. and removed him to the hospital. Reports last night were he was not seriously injured and was in "good" condition.

Mrs. Canfield was arrested yesterday and furnished bail for a hearing at such time as her husband will be able to testify, police said. District Attorney Clifton A. Cloud of Pike County being on vacation, Judge Fred W. Davis appointed Mrs. Dorothy Stroh Tisdale to conduct the investigation.

Tannersville—The Elsie Longacre Rebekah Lodge met on Wednesday May 21 with all officers present and an inspiring session conducted by the new Noble Grand, Mrs. Vera Walters. An invitation was received from the Newfoundland Lodge to visit them on the evening of June 3. The trip, if undertaken, will be in private cars.

The Lodge is chartering a bus for members to attend Rebekah Assembly at Reading on June 10. This will be an all-day session. Final arrangements will be announced at the next meeting of the lodge.

Fidelia Class Monday

Fidelia Class of St. John's Lutheran Church will meet at the home of Mrs. George Miller, 30 Broad St., on Monday night at 8 p.m.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

If anybody wants to know why Anne Swartley was a little late in getting to the Red Cross meeting to claim her certificate, it was because she was waiting to see her daughter off to her first formal dance.

And you needn't ask who that was with her sneaking in with the same excuse, either. It's a terrific time for parents, and not only in all the preliminary furor of what to wear, and how soon must they be in, and can't you do something about my hair.

After the tumult and the shouting dies, and quiet settles down over the house, you try to follow them in your mind, but it's like trying to see through a closed door.

I suppose you eventually get used to the closed doors in your children's lives that will open only so far as they are willing to open them. It's a terrific temptation to peek through the keyhole, but I guess we'd better not.

Besides, look at the clutter they've left behind for us to clean up—dunghies, sweatshirts, and a pair of sneakers all helter skelter. Some comfort to think they'll be back in them again this morning and looking much more natural.

Listen To Bobby Westbrook daily, Monday through Friday, on "The Party Line" WVPO, 10:05 a.m.

Mrs. Altemose Entertains Mission Group

Brookheads—Monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the Zion Lutheran Church, was held on Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Altemose. The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Frank Varney, and the devotional exercises were led by Mrs. George Dold.

The report of the conference held at the Upper Tincum Church, Upper Black Eddy, was given by Mrs. Claude Miller. The theme "Missionary Work in My Community," was discussed by program chairman, Mrs. Lloyd Altemose, assisted by Mrs. William Kreuge, Mrs. Alice Miller, Mrs. Claude Miller, Miss Sallie Serfass, Mrs. Mary Flory, Mrs. David Weber and Miss Margaret Ingram.

The Thank-Offering boxes were received. The meeting closed with the missionary benediction.

A social hour followed and refreshments were served by the hostess Mrs. Lloyd Altemose to the following members: Sallie Serfass, Mrs. Mary Flory, Mrs. William Kreuge, Mrs. George Dold, Mrs. Claude Miller, Margaret Ingram, Mrs. Mary Christman, Mrs. David Weber, Mrs. Frank Varney, Mrs. Alice Miller, Mrs. Ralph Christman, and the hostess, Mrs. Lloyd Altemose.

Family Has Many Reasons For Celebrating

Mrs. Leedom Honored By WSCS; Named County Leader

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church held a testimonial dinner on Thursday night in the dining room of the church for their retiring president, Mrs. Isabelle Leedom, who has been president for the past three years. There were 75 present for the dinner.

At the speakers' table were: Mrs. George T. Rowland, of Philadelphia, president of the North District of the WSCS; Mrs. William H. Hauff, secretary of promotion for the district; Mrs. Leedom, Miss Marian Leedom; Mrs. Anna Smith, past president of the Society; Mrs. Sturges Bogert, incoming president; and Rev. and Mrs. Harold Eaton.

The invocation was given by Mrs. Maud Steam, and Mr. Eaton served as toastmaster for the program. Mrs. Smith presented Mrs. Leedom with the past president's emblem pin; and Mrs. Hauff announced her appointment as sub-district chairman of the North District for Monroe County.

Mrs. Rowland, chief speaker, had as her theme "The Place and Value of Women's Work in the Church."

The election and installation of officers followed the program with Mrs. Hauff as installing officer. She presented each new officer with a red rose. The new officers are:

Mrs. Sturges Bogert, president; Mrs. Howard Eckert, vice president; Mrs. Fred Strauser, secretary; Mrs. Oliver Wilson, corresponding secretary. Secretaries: Mrs. Edward Smith, missionary education; Mrs. Thomas Kistler, student's work; Mrs. Kenneth Stine, youth work; Mrs. Evelyn McKibben, children's work; Mrs. Dale Leary, spiritual life; Miss Dolores Lesoin, status of women; Mrs. John S. Becker, printing and publicity; Mrs. Levi Merring, membership and welcome.

Mrs. Howard Eckert is chairman of the program committee and other secretaries include: Miss Mary Kistler, finance and budget; Mrs. Fred Davis, parsonage; Mrs. Harry Warrick, music and entertainment; Mrs. Harry Crouse, supply work.

Circle Leaders were also installed with Mrs. Evelyn McKibben as chairman of circle 1; Mrs. Arthur Holmes, circle 2; Mrs. Levi Merring, circle 3; Mrs. Maude Stone, circle 4; Mrs. Oscar Sharp, circle 5; Mrs. Stella Platenburg, circle 6; Mrs. Margaret Fisher, circle 7.

The dinner was in charge of Circle 7, with Circles 2 and 5 assisting. The table decorations were spring flowers and tapers in crystal holders. Mrs. Verner Reynolds was in charge of the decorations and each guest at the speakers table received a corsage of rosebuds.

Mother-Daughter Dinner

Dirigo Class of Zion Reformed Church will hold its annual Mother and Daughter dinner at the church on Monday night at 6:30 p.m.

Many of the animals classed as carnivorous actually live mostly on plants—the bear being one example.

William Lotz President Of Luther League

Hamilton Township—The Hamilton Lutheran League under the leadership of Rev. John B. Bergstrom held its second meeting at Mount Eaton Church on Sunday night, May 18. During the meeting, the young people elected the following officers:

William C. Lotz Jr., president; Samuel Budge, vice president; Martha Jean Kemmerer, secretary; Clair Altemose, treasurer. For the month of June, Jeanne Arnold will serve as pianist and Earl Budge as the chaplain.

The next meeting will be held Sunday night, May 25, at 7:30 in the Bartonville Church. All young people are invited to attend.

Youth Fellowship Plans Summer Activities

Cherry Valley—The Cherry Valley Methodist Youth Fellowship met at the home of Emma Joan Felencer on Tuesday night, May 20, at 7:30.

Joan Armitage, vice president, conducted the meeting with roll call, finding six members present. The treasurer, Shirley Stout, reported the recent movie "Return to Faith" sponsored by the group, had been a success. Grace Hagerman was appointed substitute secretary for the summer.

The group planned a chicken barbecue to be held Saturday, June 21 at 5:30 in the school picnic grounds.

They also planned summer activities, with a bake sale in July, and a play in August among the tentative plans.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Shirley Stout on Tuesday, June 17, at 7:30.

SHS Music Parents Meet Mon. Night

St. Paul's Aid Makes Summer Plans

Swiftwater—The Ladies Aid of St. Paul's Reformed church held their May meeting at the social room of the church, with Miss Beatrice Bush and Mrs. Russell Bach as hostesses.

First on the agenda was the discussion of plans for the sale of baked goods to take place on June 7, at the Wyckoff store, beginning at 10 a.m. Chairman of the committee on arrangements is Mrs. George Hahn, assisted by Mrs. Elwood Warner and Mrs. Walter Rowe. Canvassers for the different routes include Mrs. Kenneth Wescott, Mrs. Walter Coffman, Miss Beatrice Bush, and Mrs. Francis Coffman. Publicity committee: Mrs. David Nelson, Mrs. John Lindstedt, and Mrs. Elmer Mader.

Another important item of discussion at this meeting was the annual picnic and bazaar, the date for which has been set for Saturday, July 19, at the East Swiftwater grove. A parcel post sale will be one of the features of this event, and Mrs. Walter Coffman and Mrs. David Nelson were put in charge of getting cards ready for same.

A short Mother's Day program included singing of the song "Mother's Prayers Have Followed Me," the Lord's Prayer, and presentation of gifts. Mrs. Harry O. Heller was awarded the gift for being the oldest mother present, and Mrs. Kenneth Wescott was the youngest mother.

Church care for the month is in charge of Mrs. Walter Rowe and Mrs. Harry Heller. The June meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Francis Coffman, when she will be assisted at the duties of hostess by Mrs. Edith Bowman.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments of strawberry shortcake with whipped cream, tea, and coffee, were served by the hostesses. Members present were: Cora Warner, Margaret Wescott, Helen Schmidt, Sara Hahn, Sadie Heller, Claire Shick, Elsie Rowe, Beulah Coffman, Grace Kresge, Alta Coffman, and the hostesses Beatrice Bush and Ethel Bach.

Jolly Janes Make Cancer Dressings

Bartonville—Mrs. Russell Bond entertained the Jolly Jane Club at her home on Tuesday night when the group made dressings for the Monroe County Cancer Unit.

The hostess prize was won by Mrs. Vernon Wallace and refreshments were served. Present were: Mrs. Emma Metzgar, Mrs. Dorothea Schreck, Mrs. Vera Walters, Mrs. Katurah Hartman, Mrs. Anita Wallace, Mrs. Dorothy Heller, Mrs. Hilda Coss and the hostess.

The club will meet at the home of Dorothea Schreck in two weeks.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

Several days ago a telephone call came from a rural customer who asked two questions:—Does Wyckoff's sell crinoline and at what price per yard? And why does perfume cost more by the dram than by the ounce? The lady said she was in no particular hurry for the answers, and perhaps it's just as well. Since then I've tried her telephone number at least eight times, with no more success than to receive a busy signal. So this may be the quickest way of getting the answer to her.

Wyckoff's does—as I told her when we talked—sell crinoline. However I hadn't the price at hand then. Hattie Walters later told me it is 49 cents a yard, 39 inches wide, and comes in black or white. Moreover, it is permanent finish. You can make an undergarment of it with the perfect assurance that, after laundering, it will return to its present stiffened state with a minimum of bother on your part. And where your pretty, flared spring skirts are concerned, such crinoline is the perfect stand-out, anyway you look at it.

As for the perfume . . . I think there must be a misunderstanding somewhere along the line. A dram of perfume is, of course, one eighth of an ounce. It is less expensive than the larger quantity. However, eight drams would cost more than one ounce, primarily because it is more costly, and involves more labor, to package eight tiny bottles than it does to package a larger size. However, some diamond-precious foreign perfumes are more expensive in the tiny size, probably because they are very choicely encased in crystal. This is much the same principle as paying exorbitant sums for the intricate workmanship that goes into the making of really lovely, miniature collectors' items.

These are just a few of the questions that come in from time to time, and when I haven't the answers at hand, it's always fun to track someone down who has. Slightly more difficult was the question of the shopper who ordered a nightgown and ended her letter, "Would I prefer pink or blue?" Not knowing, I guessed pink . . . and she hasn't disputed the choice. Then yesterday someone wanted to know what the "Pye" is that sits on a tree in a nursery rhyme. A little searching, and there it was in black and white:—"Pye . . . variation of Pie, meaning Maggie." What next? THAT is the?

Stroudsburg High Plans Commencement

Stroudsburg High School holds its 61st annual graduation exercises beginning Sunday, June 1 at 7:30 p.m. with baccalaureate ceremonies.

Rev. Thomas Shoemith will deliver the baccalaureate sermon.

Class day exercises are scheduled for the following Wednesday, June 4 at 8:15 p.m. at the school.

The final program in the graduation series will be held Friday, June 6 at 8:15 p.m. when the school holds its annual commencement ceremonies for the members of the senior class.

Principal speaker for the commencement program will be Dr. Paul R. Mort, professor of education in the teachers college at Columbia University. Dr. Mort will speak on "The Community and the Nation".

Music for commencement will be provided by the Stroudsburg High Orchestra and the Mixed Chorus, under the director of John Pyle and Numa Snyder, respectively.

Rev. Ernest T. Campbell will deliver the invocation and benediction.

The salutatory address will be given by Sandra Lee, Betty Clugston will give the valedictory speech.

The award of a series of prizes sponsored by community organizations will be made during the latter portion of the exercises.

Arthur Jollowsky, president of the senior class, will deliver the traditional class oration.

District Elks To Meet Here

The next meeting of the Northeast Pennsylvania Elks district will be held at the East Stroudsburg lodge home Sunday, August 10. Announcement was made at the recent meeting of the area group held at Wilkes-Barre.

This will be one of the outstanding events of the summer and more than 400 Elks and their ladies are expected to participate in the session. Special entertainment will be provided for the ladies while the business session is being held. Exalted Ruler Ted D. Hoffman and the entertainment committee will announce details.

Achterman To Give Address At Dedication

Saylorsburg — Leo Achterman, Stroudsburg attorney, will deliver the main address here Sunday afternoon when a plaque and the fire hall are dedicated to men and women of Ross and Hamilton Townships who served in the armed forces.

Dedication ceremonies are scheduled to start at 2:30 p.m. at the fire hall. Special projects by organizations in both townships enabled the fund to provide for the building.

Three Named To Board In Pike County

Milford — Three new members were named to the Pike County Board of School Directors here Thursday night when the county school officials convened at the courthouse for the Spring convention.

Elected are E. S. Parsons, Greene Township and Mrs. Dorothy R. Neasing, Milford, for six-year terms and Bruce Worrell, Palmyra Township, two years.

Forty-five directors heard Robert M. Carson, president of the Pennsylvania State School Directors Association outline the jointure program; speak on the tenure act and stress the importance of civic responsibility of school directors. He was introduced by Preston O. VanNess, executive secretary of the PSSDA.

E. S. Parsons, president of the Pike County Association opened the session and Thomas A. Casey, past president presided for election.

Representing Lehman Township School Board, Bushkill, were Louis Lee, Louis Messerle, Raymond Steele and L. J. Butz.

Bloodmobile Visits Here Next Tuesday

Announcement was made last night that a change in hours had been made for the visit of the bloodmobile at the Elks home, East Stroudsburg, next Tuesday. Originally, it was to have been in operation from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. This has been changed to 1 to 7 p.m.

Leroy Mikes, Red Cross blood donor chairman, said.

Volunteers who plan to donate a pint of blood are requested to call Red Cross headquarters on Monday to make appointments. However, in the event donors are unable to call, they are urged to go direct to the Elks home during the hours the bloodmobile is stationed there.

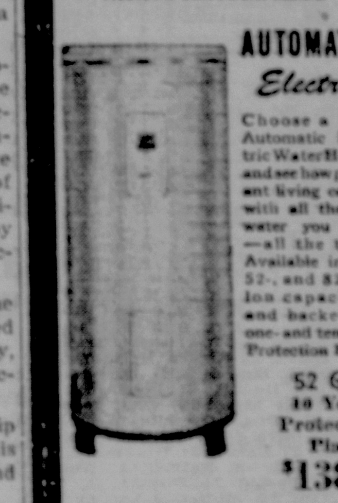

The Elks lodge is sponsor for the visit with Russell Scheller, chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements. The East Stroudsburg lodge has a goal of 500 pints and the visit Tuesday will be the last opportunity of reaching it. Support of the members, families and friends is requested by the committee.

New Radio Tower Placed

A receiving antenna towering 132 feet in the air was erected at the Pennsylvania Power and Light Company's sub-station in Mount Pocono yesterday. C. G. Long, district manager announced.

Long said crews spliced together three poles to gain the height and used pulley lines and winches to hoist the huge pole into the air.

The antenna is expected to augment the power signal to radio-equipped line and service trucks operating from the sub-station to aid in speeding repairs and to direct field operations.

Support of the members, families and friends is requested by the committee.

Chestnuthill High Awards 17 Diplomas

Brodheadsville—Chestnuthill High School, Brodheadsville, held its annual commencement exercises last night.

Seventeen members of the class of 1952 received diplomas from the school during the ceremonies. Principal speaker was Dr. R. C. Hutchinson, president of Lafayette College in Easton.

Dr. Hutchinson, directing the major points of his address toward the seniors, outlined three central attributes which, he said, are necessary in becoming "responsible human beings" upon leaving high school.

These he categorized as integrity, culture and a belief in God. The "coarse, uncouth, uncultured and dishonest person . . . who is lacking in spiritual qualities is no longer needed by the society in which we live."

Joan Howell, senior class valedictorian, spoke on "Faith In Our Goal." The salutatorian address, "The Free World We Seek," was given by Loretta Snyder.

Presentation of the valedictory award was made by Rev. C. Clyde Levergood on behalf of the West End Lions Club. Rev. Levergood also delivered the invocation and benediction.

Chester Stanowski, representing the Chestnuthill Township Board of Education, awarded diplomas to class members following their presentation by school Principal John C. Mills.

Monroe County Superintendent of Schools John C. Lits contributed a brief address to the graduating class and parents assembled for the commencement ceremonies.

Additional addresses were given by Joanne Eckman, who spoke on "Resources for Freedom"; Karlene Keown, "The Cornerstone is Peace" and Shirley Meisell, "Youth and a Free World."

The High School Band, under the direction of David Paul Weber, played a processional and recessional and two programmed selections. A High School Mixed Chorus was heard in one selection.

Those who received diplomas were John Edwin Bonser, Collins Leroy Brong, William Ronald Crook, Joanne Ruth Eckman, Henry Charles Hoffman, Joan Cora Howell, Karlene Marie Keown, Elaine Eleanor Koehler, Earl David Kunkle, Shirley Ann Meisell, Gerald Edward Meisell, Janet Louise Miller, Grace Arlene Pysker, Robert Stanley Serfass, Joanne Eleanor Smith, Faye Elizabeth Snyder and Loretta Arnold Snyder.

An audience of more than 500 persons attended the 35th annual graduation ceremony.

Classes Complete Schedule Cards

Schedule cards for the 1952-53 school year at Stroudsburg High School have been completed and are now awaiting parental approval.

Assisting Principal Samuel O. Wells said yesterday the cards were filled out during Thursday's scheduling program and have been given to individual students for their parents' study and information.

The schedules are to be returned Monday, Wells added.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCES DRAKE

SATURDAY, MAY 24, 1952

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Take things your own way. You may be heavy with care of business even and you may be rushed. Getting excited never helps.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Some new twist, maybe fresh approach, trying to view situations from a different angle could be solution to a more successful day.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—Generally favorable aspects advise a peering up of ambitions—WITHOUT straining or pushing over well-built foundations to replace with unknown new ones. Keep cheerful.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Among top sponsored this on whole auspicious day. Religious and children's activities, statelessness, domestic harmony (if you try), recognizing truth rather than strength.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo)—You may not make a mistake today, but you surely won't advance yourself any either if you indulge doubting, feelings of over-sensitiveness. Do not disregard health hints.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—Your leading planet Mercury in exalted position forces you forward with discretion and common sense directing, of course. Others' shortcomings handle with tact.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Earnestness, courage and order are outstanding factors towards your goal. They are not unfamiliar to Libra either, but you may find them camouflaged by present misguided opinions.

October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio)—May be in-between sort of day, one that will need extra push or fast or inventiveness to put it into the doers column. Rest, but don't idle.

November 24 to December 23 (Sagittarius)—Note safety measures, devices, conferences in the news. Pitch in with your sagacity and directness of approach. You will be blessed.

December 24 to January 23 (Capricorn)—Sometimes we are right, then we are wrong—all of us. Those who quickly admit mistakes and seek to rectify them are the stronger for it, and more admired.

January 24 to February 23 (Aquarius)—Go along with people who think and feel for the good of all, with things of real merit. Therein lies your path for true contentment and achievement. Guard yourself in heart in trials.

February 24 to March 23 (Pisces)—May be a desire now to throw away some items, procedures or ideas. Think well before you do so. No time for hit-or-miss tactics.

YOU BORN TODAY are of many talents, sometimes as many ambitions. Don't attempt too many achievements and wear down fine vital forces. Avoid indulging whims on spur of the moment; don't speak first and think afterwards. Get sufficient rest, pray daily for strength to seek first better for the soul, then material gains.

Birthdate of: Sir Arthur W. Pinero, dramatist; Garrett F. Service, astronomer.

Mrs. Lepine, Chipperfield Drive, Dies

Mrs. Friedericka M. Lepine, widow of William J. Lepine, died at 10:30 a.m. yesterday at her home on Chipperfield Drive.

Mrs. Lepine had been visiting Monroe County since 1919. In residence here, Mr. Lepine died in 1948.

She was born in Germany and moved to this country at the age of two years. Previous to establishing residence in Stroud township, she and her husband lived in New Jersey.

Mrs. Lepine was a member of the Arlington Heights Chapel of the Methodist Church and of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Stroud Township Fire Co.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Laurence Hunt, Manoa, Pa.; one brother, Charles Meisner, Yonkers, N. Y.; two grandchildren and a number of nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 2 p.m. at Dunkelberger and Westbrook funeral home. Interment will be made in Laurelwood Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 p.m. Sunday.

Rites Held For James Shiffer

Funeral services for James F. Shiffer, of Brodheadsville, were conducted at the Kresge funeral home, that place, at 2 p.m. yesterday. Rev. Alton Albright, of Gilbert, officiated. Graveside services were held at the Brodheadsville cemetery by the following members of the Odd Fellows lodge, who also acted as pall bearers: Harley Everett, Stewart Shupp, R. V. Kresge, Norman Burger, Joseph Millman and Fred Wagner.

F. C. Colvin, 83, Expires In Hospital

Frederick C. Colvin, 83, of 820 Church St., Arlington Heights, died at the Monroe County General Hospital at 3:30 a.m. yesterday where he had been a patient a week. However, he had been an invalid the past four years.

A native of Wyoming County, son of the late Jesse and Gertrude (Reese) Colvin, he resided in Stroudsburg area 46 years engaged in carpenter contracting to the time of his retirement. He was a member of the Arlington Heights Chapel.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth (Hunt) Colvin, at home; six sons and two daughters, George and Leonard, Stroudsburg; Earl C. and Roy, California; Frank, Philadelphia; Frederick C. Jr., Bridgeport, Conn.; Mrs. Anna Fritz, Stroudsburg; and Mrs. Genevieve Transue, Philadelphia; also 22 grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Private funeral services will be held at the William R. Thomas funeral home, 714 Brown St., Stroudsburg, Monday at 2 p.m. Rev. Charles Whitaker, pastor of the Swiftwater Methodist Church, will officiate. Interment will be in Stroudsburg Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday from 7 to 9 p.m.

Lot Sold In Snover Addition

Miss Blanche A. Wyckoff, of East Stroudsburg, filed a deed at the office of Floyd Butz, register and recorder at the courthouse yesterday for the sale of lot 22 in the M. B. Snover addition in the Willow St. area, East Stroudsburg, to Harold W. Miller, also of East Stroudsburg.

Russell Heller, 53, Dies At Residence In Appenzell

Appenzell—Russell James Heller, 53, died at his home here at 2 p.m. yesterday. Mr. Heller was an invalid for 34 years, having been injured by the breaking of a runaway while employed at the Warnertown Ice Co. plant.

He was a native of this place, son of Mrs. Mary (Rustine) Heller and the late Ferdinand Heller. He was a member of the Appenzell Lutheran Church.

The survivors are his mother, three brothers and three sisters, Milton, Reading; John, Sciota; Stanton, at home; Mrs. Sadie Kintz, Saylorsburg, and Mrs. Dewey Bond and Mrs. Charles Brong, both of Brodheadsville.

Funeral services will be held at the Kresge funeral home, Brodheadsville, Tuesday at 2 p.m. with Rev. William F. Wunder, Grace Church, East Stroudsburg, in charge. Burial will be in the Appenzell Cemetery. Friends may pay

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to snail out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. The word the message the letters under the checked figures give you.
